

SUMMARY

Didenko I.V. Administrative responsibility for violating requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflict of interest. – Qualifying scientific work as a manuscript.

Thesis on the degree of Candidate of Science in Law, specialty 12.00.07 «Administrative Law and Process; Finance Law; Information Law». – Scientific Research Institute of Public Law, Kyiv, 2018.

The dissertation is devoted to the complex study of the legal regulation of administrative responsibility for violating the requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflicts of interest. The theoretical and methodological principles of studying the issue of the concept of administrative responsibility for violation of Article 172-7 of the CAO of Ukraine are determined. The object, subject, material and mental elements of the disposition of violating the requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflicts of interest are analyzed. The stages of proceedings in cases of violating the requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflicts of interest are determined, the definition of proceedings in cases of violating the requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflicts of interest is given. The main types of administrative penalties, such as fine, forfeiture of proceeds and rewards, deprivation of the right to occupy certain positions and be engaged in a certain type of activity, are described. In the thesis, the foreign experience of similar regulations on violating the requirements for the prevention and settlement of conflicts of interest in certain countries of Western Europe, the CIS and the USA is analyzed, as well as the functioning of analogous regulations in domestic and international law is compared. The main ways to improve legal regulation in compliance with requirements for prevention and settlement of conflict of interest are suggested, special subjects of combating corruption are described.

Key words: conflict of interest, potential and real conflict of interest, private interest, violating requirements for the prevention and settlement of a conflict of interest, nepotism, cronyism, favoritism, corrupt motive, corruption offenses.